Paul Lovely Dies In Ann Arbor

Paul J. Lovely Sr., highly esteemed and long a resident of Grayling, passed away at University Hospital, Ann Arbor at 12:05 Friday morning, where he had been a patient following an operation. He was reported as getting along nicely and his family were expecting a call to go to accompany him home when word was received that he had passed away. News of his passing came unexpectedly and was a shock to his family and many friends.

Having resided in Grayling since 1891 Mr. Lovely was very well known. His popularity as one of the lovely cooks was widely known, and at first this was in the early days when he cooked in the lumber camps about Grayling. When the camps closed he still kept at his trade serving the various eating places in Grayling. Mr. Lovely was of quiet disposition and loved his home and family.

Born in Thurso, Quebec, Canada he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lovely, who were among Grayling's early pioneers. Coming from Canada with his parents they first resided in Bay City before coming to Grayling in 1881. He was united in marriage in Bay City to Emma M. LaMotte, who together with nine children survive him, two children having preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at St. Mary's church, Rev. Fr. Francis Brannigan officiating. Besides many relatives and friends in the congregation were members of the Moose Lodge of which the deceased was a member. Pallbearers were Esbern, Oscar W. and T. W. Hanson, T. P. Peterson, A. S. Burrows and John Bruun. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

Those surviving besides the widow are four daughters and five sons: Mrs. Mae Wilson, Mrs. Ruth Golinick, Ernest and Roy. Grayling, Mrs. Fern Failing, Seneca, Ill., Mrs. Nina Dornire and Paul, Midland; Floyd, Great Lakes, Michigan, Leo, Morris, Ill. Also there are 25 grandchildren and three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Marie Lovely, Detroit, Mrs. Simon Sivas, Flint, Mrs. Dave White, Peter and Oliver Lovely, Grayling.

All of the family were present at the funeral and the following sisters from a distance: Mr. and Mrs. Leon LaMotte and family, Mrs. Lawrence Malloy, Mr. and Mrs. Keith LaMotte and family.

Workmen Start Enlarging Airport

NEW RUNWAYS TO BE LENGTHENED AND MADE HEAVIER

Over 100 Men Will Be Employed

Grayling airport is to be enlarged, and barracks built. Workmen have already started on the project.

Paul Miller of Sparta is the general contractor and there are about a dozen sub-contractors.

Huge tractors have already started on the work of clearing. Large trees are pulled up almost as easily as picking daisies.

Seven inches of concrete will be built on top of the present runways and each lengthened to over a mile and a half. All the buildings within the 1½ miles square area will be removed. That includes the manufacturing plant and offices of the National Log Construction Co., the James McDonnell home and other houses.

Federal highway U. S. 27 that now skirts the airport will be abandoned and replaced about a mile away, running past the two cemeteries. This will rejoin the present highway at about the corner that goes to the state park, or The Pines.

About thirty men started working at the airport this Monday morning and it is expected that a crew of over 100 men will be on the job within a few days.

Airport Contractor Has Plane Smashup

Paul Miller, general contractor for the airport, had a forced landing Tuesday afternoon, smashing up his plane. With him was Norman Goodwin, neither of whom was hurt.

Mr. Miller, whose home city is Sparta, had arrived at the airport that morning and was busy all day looking after details and designs for the enlargement and improvement of the airport. At about 4:00 p. m. he and Mr. Goodwin started for St. Ignace, where Mr. Miller has another construction contract, when about 4 or 5 miles out his engine went dead and he was forced to land.

The only place available was a fire line west of the Pines park, near one of the small lakes. On landing the plane folded up and turned over. Neither man was injured, further than being doused with clouds of sand that filled their faces and hair and clothes.

They are feeling pretty happy over escaping serious injuries. The plane will be sent away to be repaired. Mr. Miller estimated the damage as amounting to about $500.

Snake's Terminal Rings

A rattlesnake acquires from two to four rings a year. Under normal conditions a ring is added each time the snake sheds its skin and, contrary to the general belief that this occurs only once a year, the usual number of sheddings or sloughings each year is three. A rattlesnake contains more than 12 rings because the vibration at the tip of the tail is so great that terminal rings are worn down or broken off.

Dedicate Pictures Of Givers of Church

Through the thoughtful generosity of Mrs. Louis E. Hart of Chicago our Michelson Memorial church now has upon its walls the pictures of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nels Michelson. It was a splendid gift, greatly appreciated by our people. It was in 1918 that the church was erected in memory of Mrs. Michelson who had died in 1893. In 1923 a disastrous fire completely ruined this structure, together with all the furnishings, including the enlarged photographs of Mr. and Mrs. Michelson. When in 1924 the church was rebuilt no provision was made to place the pictures of our benefactors within the structure. Some time ago the pastor took up the matter with members of the family with the result that we now have these beautiful likenesses. It may be of interest to note that something like $45,000 was given by Mr. Michelson for the building of the church in memory of his wife. In a very impressive service the unveiling ceremony took place last Sunday. A large audience was in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Michelson had brought two huge baskets of flowers for the occasion. In the midst of the service a telegram was received from Bessie Michelson, bearing greetings and best wishes. Splendid and appropriate music was rendered. We are glad to record the names of those who took part in the ceremony, James McNeven, Emil Giegling, Jane Milnes, Billyann Clippert, Mrs. Fred Lamm, Norman Butler, Rev. H. W. Kuhlman, Mrs. Bauman, Dr. Clippert and Fred Welsh were appointed a committee to select a suitable place and hang the pictures where all may see them through the years when this generation has passed on. Their toil and sacrifices will help us to carry on in these days of difficult going.

Thank you Mrs. Hart.

Gaylord Youth Fatally Hurt in Auto Accident

Young Richard Dowker of Gaylord, age 12 years, died at Mercy Hospital Monday morning from injuries received in an auto accident that occurred Sunday evening on U. S. 27, one-half mile west of the intersection of M. 93 at 8:00 p. m. Three other Gaylord youths were seriously injured when their car swerved to avoid colliding with an oncoming car and struck an oak tree, the force of the impact breaking it off. Jay Hale, the driver, age 19, and Laurent Noiret, age 20, of Gaylord had come to Grayling for a late afternoon and were returning home when they picked up Richard Dowker, age 12, and Robert Walzack, age 14, who were hitchhiking back to their home in Gaylord from Grayling where they had visited the hospital that afternoon to see Richard's older brother, Dennis Dowker, who is a patient there.

It is reported that while carrying on a conversation with his companions in the back seat of his car young Hale's automobile moved to the wrong side of the road. On looking up and seeing the oncoming car Hale swerved too sharply to the right and unable to get his car back into control continued off the road and into the tree, the force of the impact hurling Robert Walzack and Jay Hale from the car.

Hale suffered a sprained neck and bruises, and his condition is reported as "good." Laurent Noiret and Robert Walzack who received only minor bruises and lacerations were released shortly after they received treatment at Grayling Mercy Hospital where all four boys were taken by Sgt. Stahl, of Gaylord, State Police Post, who had rushed to the scene of the accident.

795th Enjoyed Work Surprises, at Grayling

(This article was sent us by the courtesy of Corp. Bill Joseph, of Fort Custer, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Joseph of Grayling. We are sure the local people will enjoy Mr. Snead's article "Surprises, Fun at Grayling." We understand it was taken from a Battle Creek newspaper).

(By Tech. Fred A. Snead)

Going to Camp Grayling was like a bomb shell to the cars of the men. Having never been there before we were under the impression that it was like all small towns, one hears about for the first time. The trip going was very impressive, the motorcyclists led the convoy and they had a wonderful time while doing a swell job. All of them have become experts in that particular vocation. Somewhere around 3:30 p. m. we arrived at Grayling, Michigan, then proceeded to Camp Grayling. The first thing we did was pitch tents, this being our first experience in such an adventure. The next attraction was the beautiful Lake Margrethe, named after the wonderful old lady Mrs. Margrethe Hanson, who yet lives at the age of 98. We knew we were in for a great deal of hard work, which had been welcomed by all members of this command. The first night we weren't permitted to go into the water as our camp had to be set up. Tuesday our life guards got together under the guidance of Lieut. Hutcherson and cleaned up the lake so we could swim. Several members of the command went fishing. Tech. Sgt. Raymond Peacher, the playboy of Battle Creek, better known as the International Lover, was under the impression that he could attract the fish as he did the ladies, for someone must have told him that there were mermaids in the lake. Ask him what happened.

As usual the I & O Section was somewhere in the middle of the lake trying their luck also (what luck). All of the fish just jumped at their hooks; it seemed that the members of the I & O Section knew where the fish were. They were really good after our famous cook (Robert Jenkins) put his stuff on them.

One of the most amusing events of the eight days in Grayling was when Sgt. Byrd Holly and our Cook Robert Jenkins came up the lake paddling a rowboat with the anchor weighed.

Wednesday morning we started hearing wonderful stories of the people in the town of Grayling, how they welcomed the members of this command. Every opportunity the men had they would relate over and over again just how they had been accepted by the folks.

One of the most interesting places in Grayling was the Grayling Service Center, the hostesses Mrs. George Kraus and Mrs. J. Kiploy made true the saying "Good things come in small packages". The club is situated by the Blue Room of a famous hotel; many references have been heard that it was the best Service Club that any of the members had been to in their army careers. Cigarettes, cookies, post cards, writing paper, and the various magazines were available to all of the men. Next was the famous Spike's Keg O' Nails Bar and Cabaret. What a place!

It is to be remembered a long time how swell everyone in Grayling was, how they accepted the men, how they extended their hospitality. With deepest regret we left Camp Grayling for our return to Custer; we hope that one day we will be able to return again.

KIWANES CLUB NOTES

Mr. W. T. Davis of Nevada, manager of the crew of men who are repairing the elevated waterworks tank for the city, was the speaker at the Kiwanis club Wednesday. The water tank was sadly in need of repair and had a bad leak. The men found the inside quite slimy and that the asphalt lining had broken loose nearly all around.

All the old lining was removed, the interior polished and given a lining of pure zinc that is applied in liquid form by using a blow torch and high air pressure. A new modern color of paint on the outside will make the tank better than it was when new. The color is one that is approved by the military authorities, but, perhaps, may not appeal to the public.

Mr. Davis showed a number of reels of motion pictures taken by himself and wife while deep sea fishing in Florida.

Open Football Season At Alpena

Friday, September 18th, the Grayling High School football squad travels to Alpena to open the 1942 season in a night game scheduled to start at 8:00 P. M. The locals have been practicing three weeks in preparation for the tilt and should be ready to give the always strong Alpena eleven a good battle.

Thirty three candidates have been working out daily, a large turn out in itself, and it is expected an eleven will be moulded to give Grayling a fair ball club for 1942. Eight letter winners return from the undefeated conference champions of 1941. Captain Robert Clark returns at quarterback, Ross Thompson at left half, Robert Gilner at right half, Robert LaChappelle at center, Harold Hatfield at left tackle, James Kolka at right guard, and Albert Gierke and Guy Wheaton, letter winner reserves are expected to fill the right end and right tackle vacancies to form a strong foundation for the 1942 team. At this point it looks like Donald Sorenson at left guard, Gerald Burns at left end, and Sandy Thompson or Eugene Corwin at fullback, are all reserves in 1941, to open with the regulars Friday night.

A second and third eleven has been coming along fast and any member will be ready to step in and fill their positions in an acceptable manner. They are Babcock, Smith, Richard Gildner, Deckrow and Brady, Ends; Howard Hatfield, Barber, Entsminger, Boger and Miller, Tackles; Duncan, Owens, Annis, A. Kolka, Guards; Kraus and Peterson, Centers; and Sidman, Case, Bennett, Smock and Crawford, Backs.

At the present time Grayling is faced with one home game and officials are working hard to schedule at least another home game and two if possible. This was caused by the cancellation of the Gaylord game and the fact that Grayling in order to complete the schedule last spring contracted Alpena and Petoskey both to be played at night away.

The schedule:

Sept. 18—Alpena—there.

Sept. 25—Open.

Oct. 2—Onaway—there.

Oct. 10th—Boysie City—there.

Oct. 16—Petoskey—there.

Oct. 24—Manelona—there.

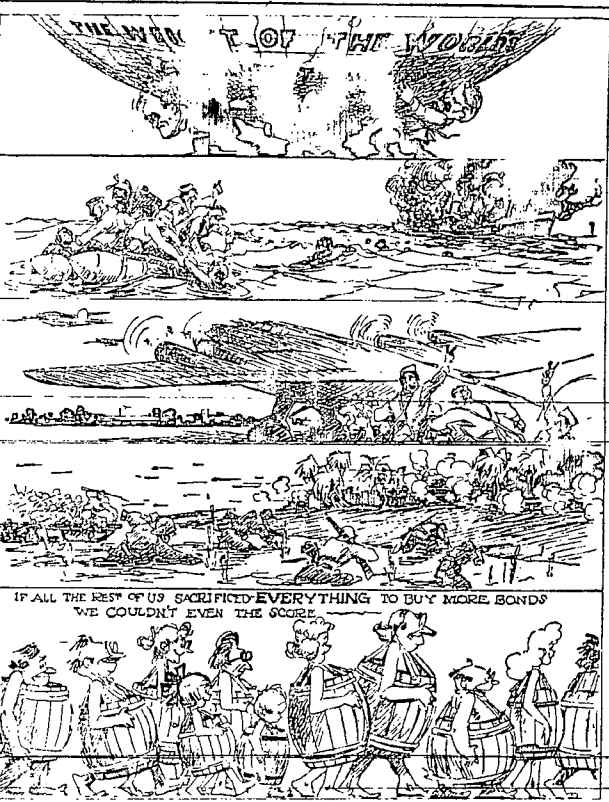

Oct. 31—Charlevoix—there.

Nov. 6—Open.

"RECIPE TREASURES" FOUND IN AN ATTIC

A Michigan reader, writing in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (Sept. 20) issue in the Detroit Sunday Times, tells of some old family recipes, that are excellent and require only a minimum sugar, which she recently came across while ransacking her attic on a rubber salvage hunt. Buy Your Stamps at Retail Stores

RETAIL STAMPS QUOTA FOR SEPTEMBER $2,250

25,000 merchants in Michigan who are members of the Michigan Retailers War Savings Committee, of which J. B. Webber, Jr., assistant to the General Manager of the J. L. Hudson Company, Detroit, is State Chairman, are displaying a new window trim featuring their September theme, "America Must Win". In addition, a colorful new official emblem, identifying stores which are members of the Committee, will be permanently displayed by these stores throughout the War.

"A fair percentage of the merchants in Crawford County are cooperating in this job," stated Wilhelm Raab, Retail Chairman for Crawford County. "This is only a fair percentage, but our goal is to have every merchant doing his share. When the treasury Department asked the retailers of the nation to sell over a billion dollars worth of War Saving Stamps and Bonds during the present fiscal year, they made no exceptions, but included every store which sells any kind of merchandise or service at retail. This takes in everything from shoe shining parlors and barber shops to the largest department stores. If every merchant does his part, we can easily make the quota assigned to us. But if only half the merchants participate, then the other half must average just twice as much as they should have to. That's why we want every retailer on this job."

Michigan retailers have set the example for the nation in their accomplishment to date. The State organization, under the direction of Mr. Webber is generally regarded by the Treasury officials and others, as the pattern which other States should follow, and the Mich. plan has been given considerable publicity among the other 47 States.

September quota for Michigan retailers is $2,217,610. Each merchant is asked to set his own store quota at two percent, or more, of his retail volume each month. The retail Stamp quota for Crawford County is $2,250, therefore it is very important to buy your Stamps at retail Stores. The retail Sales Committee receives no credit for the sale of stamps purchased at the post-office.

Old Games Still Popular

Displays at the American Toy fair held recently in Chicago showed that the modern family still plays at ring toss and checkers, anagrams and tiddlywinks, all popular indoor sports of the early eighties.

OPTOMETRIST

For modern jewelry store in Detroit suburb. Excellent salary. State experience and education. Box 490, Grayling, Mich.

Five strikes crippling eight big manufacturing plants producing essential war materials in northern and eastern states occurred in August. With wages at an all-time high, every strike was for more pay. One set of workers asked double pay for vacations. Absurd as were the demands themselves, the spectacle may result in a great deal of good.

This is still a government "by the people" and popular sentiment means something. General reaction to the August strikes was similar to the sentiment that developed last winter when congress tried to sneak pensions for legislators, and go so much mail from home; Of course the voting public has a more direct influence over congressmen than over any set of labor union men, but public indignation is something for even a labor organizer to fear.

At present our government does not have a definite labor policy. It could have one, and should. Congressmen have been bullied by labor leaders and have avoided the issue. Now the issue has a better chance to command attention than ever before. If it comes up in the form of proposed legislation, hearings before congressional committees will almost certainly take the measure of organized labor's influence and make it public.

Membership of the big labor unions in the United States includes only about 25 per cent of the men who work for wages; considerably less than a fourth of those who receive salaries. The unorganized workers in the United States make up an overwhelming majority. Today's enormous influence of big labor organizations is not based on numerical strength. Their pompous organizers do not represent labor and cannot speak for the workers of America.

Labor union power rests on two things: first, "In union there is strength." A small group often outdo a much larger one if the little bunch will have no together. This is inherent in organization, and it is constructive. But in addition to this (in 1942) is the fact that labor unions are strongest in America's fundamental war industries. In other words, one strike at a critically chosen time and place might paralyze Uncle Sam's whole war effort.

It is estimated that 2,000 men of the aluminum industry deprived the United States of one medium bomber an hour. Simultaneous strikes at four oil refineries in the Chicago region seriously shortened the nation's output on high-octane (fighting) gasoline. There was an ordnance plant strike, a cable plant strike and others; all for higher wages which would aggravate inflation.

The working people of America are patriotic. Their sons are in the armed forces and their money is going into bonds. Strikes are not patriotic; all are damaging to defense, the opposite of patriotism whatever that is. Authority to call a strike in a defense industry is too much power for any clique representing less than one per cent of the nation's workers. Indeed there is every reason to doubt that they even represent their own members.

Undoubtedly many a unionized worker has done a thing or two recently, by instruction, that he did not consider wise. It is poor policy not to act with the majority sometimes. But if such loyal men learn that they have not been submitting to the will of the majority, but that the majority been submitting to the will of the whim of a few, correction will begin promptly.

Quite a lot has been said in this department on the subject of strikes, especially in war industries. Strikes have been much too frequent, since the very existence of the nation is at stake. But strikes over capricious demands, such as caused the recent fiasco, bring a ray of hope. Popular resentment draws us closer to a four-square labor policy. And we need it.

V-Mail for Yanks

A new space-saving device known as V-Mail is now in operation between U. S. army units in England, Northern Ireland and the United States. Under this service, letters are first dispatched to a central station where they are scanned and then photographed on small rolls of microfilm. Arriving at their destination, the microfilm rolls are developed, and photostatic copies are sent by regular mail service to the addressee. Details are now being worked out for transmission of V-Mail to and from U. S. armed forces in other parts of the world.

 Archie Lozon and William Vollmer, trustees.

In charge of transporting the pupils are Jake Stillwagon and Norman Fisher, bus drivers and Jess Pratt is the janitor.

Everything is running smoothly, the school opening on Sept. 8th. There has been a change in the hour of calling the morning classes, which is 9:30, instead of 9:00 o'clock. This change was thought feasible to make it more convenient for the children coming in on the buses from the country.

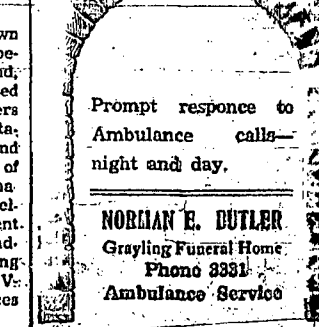

We are sure the new teachers at Frederic are very welcome in that community.

Four Types of Alaskans
 The native Alaskans can be divided roughly into four groups: the Indians of southeastern Alaska, the Indians of the interior, the Aleuts and the Eskimos.

The Indians of the southeast inhabit all of that section except Annette island and the south end of Prince of Wales island. The Indians of the interior—the Athapascans—live on the south coast and in the interior from Cook inlet on the west to the Canadian border on the east and north to the watersheds of the Yukon and the Arctic ocean.

The Aleuts, who live principally on the Aleutian islands, are related to the Eskimos but distinguished from them by language and customs.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Will Frost dropped over last evening and we had a glass of beer on the back porch. I could see Will was hustla' to say something...

"Well," he finally remarks, holding up his glass to the light of the settin' sun, "I paid my income tax today—third installment."

There was a note of pride in Will's voice that some folks might have found amusing—if they didn't know Will...

Wasn't amusing to me though. I happen to know this is the first year Will's filed an income tax return, and I suspect the payment wasn't very big... probably in the general neighborhood of $3.28. But I know how it made him feel...

Made him feel good... because he was doing his part as an American citizen... holding up his end.

Made him feel proud... to mail that money direct to Uncle Sam—for things that's needed to win this war with.

That's the way Will would feel about bein' able to pay income taxes... kind of citizen he is.

And speakin' of taxes... I read the other day that during the nine years since beer came back, beer taxes have brought in more than two and a half billion dollars to the government.

Then it went on to say that the beer industry provides more than a million dollars a day in taxes. Some of that's federal, some's state, and some's local. But any way you describe it, it's a lot of money.

Right here in Michigan, for instance, the taxes from beer last year were enough to pay for sixty-one engine bombers, two hundred and fifteen fighter airplanes, or 321 medium tanks.

(And it wasn't so long ago a lot of that money was going into pockets of bootleggers and gangsters.)

"There," I thought to myself when I saw Will holding his glass up to the light, "there are two Americans that pay their way... Will Frost and beer."

So Walt is working on the railroad, he sure likes to change jobs. He should be in the army. I'll bet he wouldn't change jobs whenever he wanted to and he would do a lot of things he would not like but for Uncle Sam you must do the things whether you like them or not. I don't care much for k. p. or guard duty, but it has to be done so that's all there is to it. Wait until I get back. I'll bet I'll know how to wash pots and pans, ha ha. I see by the paper that some of the boys from around Grayling are in Hawaiian Islands but I haven't seen any yet and it is nearly impossible for me to hunt them up because we aren't supposed to leave the Island we are on so you can see how it is, although there are quite a few boys in this company from Michigan and they all know where Grayling is. One boy is from West Branch, his name is Roberson. He is just a little fellow but full of fun. I asked him the other day how he would like to be up north for a week and he said fine.

We had to work all day so I didn't get time to write any letters. Well folks I can't think of a thing more so I'll close. Good luck and write when you can. I f. B. Confer

Dear Ag and Pop and All:

Suppose you know now why you haven't heard from me for the past few weeks. Naturally I can't say anything in these letters that would have anything to do with Military movements so I can't tell you what kind of a trip we had over here, or how long it took us, etc.

It's about four p. m. here in England which means it's 11 a. m. back home. We're five hours ahead of U. S.

Well, there's nothing else I can say so I'll have to call it a day. (tea time soon). Write soon and tell Inge and Anne and anyone else who wants to write to do so. Send letters by way of Air Mail.

Mrs. Straehly,
Box 442,
Grayling, Mich.

My dear Mrs. Straehly,
I'm writing you about your son, Fred, who is serving with me at our present location. I want you to know how much I and the other officers and men enjoy our association with him and how much we all respect him. Above all, I want you to know what a fine job he is doing here in helping to finish this war which we find on our hands.

Like all of the rest of the service men overseas, one of his greatest pleasures is in reaching out for his letters from you at mail call. If a letter is received, it means the greatest of happiness to him; but if none is received, it is a very bitter disappointment indeed. I know I can count on you to see that he gets his share of mail regularly—you know, it means so very much to him and he is such a grand fellow!

Mrs. Straehly, don't you worry unnecessarily about Fred. He is serving in one of the finest outfits in this new Army of ours. We are a team "playing ball" together—all for one and one for all, the time; and, equally, you can rest assured that we are all in there backing him up on every play.

May I count on your active and regular support? He misses you very, very much, and constantly looks forward to receiving mail from you.

Believe me, I consider it a great privilege to be serving with him.

Very sincerely yours,
Alexander E. Paterson,
Major, Army Air Forces,
Commanding.

(I may add, that I have written regularly to Fred, but my letters must have gotten mistyped.)

We're Busy Helping Uncle Sam

...—V...—

LAST YEAR America's railroads moved 475 billion ton-miles of freight, history's greatest traffic job. (We'd like to tell you how many millions of soldiers and sailors we carried, but . . .)

This year the railroads may haul 50 million carloads of freight—10% to 15% more than in 1941.

We did the 1941 job pretty easily because freight shippers and receivers and the public cooperated. We can do this year's bigger job if we again get that cooperation.

This all-out war requires all-out transportation. Uncle Sam is depending on the railroads for that. We're handling 70% of his military freight. To let him down would be tragic.

So "the tall man in the high hat" comes first.

At any time now there may be one, even two or three fewer cars in your passenger train. You'll excuse it, won't you? Uncle Sam will be using them.

Or your freight may move out, or come to you, a little later than you had hoped. We're certain you'll overlook that, too. We'll be moving important things for Uncle Sam.

We knew you would. And you'll be helping him, too.

Letters from Camp

Camp Adair, Oregon
August 24th, 1942

Dear Sir:

Just a few lines to let you know I am still alive and feeling fine. Well I have been sent to this Post and wish you would please change the address on the paper to the one I will put on at the close of this letter, so I will receive it sooner, as they hold it over a week at Fort Lewis, Wash. and I like to read about home. I may be home for a short while next month but am not sure yet. Will stop in and say hello if I do make it back home.

We have started another new Post here and I am Sgt. now and am getting along fine except that I am lonesome as the devil to see folks from home.

Tell Cecil Vickery I will write to him in a day or two as we are pretty busy starting this new post. We are close to two towns with colleges in them and close enough to Portland Oregon so we can get there on a week end pass and they are all fairly large towns and you can have a good time.

I still don't drink at all so I travel more or less alone as most of the boys are far from home and think that drinking will keep them from getting lonesome, but I don't think it helps any at all. Tell everyone I said hello and hope they are all fine.

Well I guess I will have to close for this time and go to bed, that is about all there is to do nights this late in the month.

As ever a lonesome soldier,
Sgt. Clarence Galloway

Dear Mr. Schumann:

Sorry I haven't dropped you a line before this but you know how life is in the service. Your heart can belong to daddy but your time belongs to the Marine Corps and up to this date I have not had a chance to write. Several times I got all situated and the top Sgt. picked that time to bellow out—well, I won't quote him but the general idea was to fall out. Now I've learned, much to my sorrow that it doesn't pay to keep the top waiting so out I go. So I just gave up. Anyway when he gets through talking I feel like getting drunk, but due to the fact beer
